Course Goals / Description

This course is designed to help higher-intermediate students enhance their listening and speaking skills through a series of thought-provoking TED talks. Over the course of the semester, students will be exposed to authentic lectures, podcasts and interviews of various topics, from which they will not only learn relevant academic language (words and terms), but also develop presentation skills required for any types of public speaking settings. It is also the aim of the course to help student establish critical thinking skills that help them process and reflect on new information, and apply it to real life situations.

After this course students are expected to achieve three goals:

- to recognize and respond to various types of topics with intelligible English,
- to apply learnt presentation skills to real life settings, and
- to foster a positive attitude toward English learning.

Class Rules

All students are expected to fulfill the following requirements for the course:

1. Attend and participate in class (and also outside of class)! Absence from a class is NO excuse for not knowing the assignment and what has been discussed in that class. It is YOUR responsibility to ask your fellow classmates what has been covered and what you will be doing in the next class. More than three unexcused absences will result in the failure of this class.
2. Complete assignments and papers on time. 10% per day penalty will be applied to LATE assignments. That being said, late submissions are permissible in case of a serious illness or a family crisis.
3. Be aware that cheating and plagiarism of any form will not be tolerated and will result in the failure of this class.
4. There will be NO make-up exams/presentations unless valid and official reasons for absence are presented beforehand.
5. The handouts given in class should be kept at least till the end of the semester for later reference or final exam.
6. Cellular phones should be turned off during the two-hour class period.
7. Be respectful to others, to your teacher and to yourself.
