Regulations for Chinese Language Program:

Attendance:

- Attendance is imperative for successful completion of language courses. Students who are unavoidably absent because of illness or emergencies should report to their instructors as soon as possible. Unexcused absences will result in penalty from the final grade.
- If a student has to miss a class, it is the student's responsibility to find out from classmates or the instructor what course content has been missed and what work assignment is for this class.
- Coming late or leaving early are considered disruptive behaviors, the same as absent. Cellular phones should be switched off before class.
- Those who miss class more than 3 times of the entire course are not allowed to take the final examination at the end of the academic year, and such students will not be eligible for the course credit.

Assignments:

- Written assignments are due before class starts on the scheduled day. Any assignments turned in after the due date will result in deduction in the grade.
- Those who miss class and therefore cannot turn in assignments due to religious reasons and/or previously arranged events should notify their teacher as soon as possible and submit the assignments BEFORE the deadline.

Exams/Tests/Quizzes:

- Quizzes : No make-up quizzes will be given - NO EXCEPTIONS.
- Tests : All scheduled tests are mandatory. There are NO make-up tests unless you file a petition for a make-up exam and attach a valid medical excuse. For reasons of fairness and integrity of the program. - NO EXCEPTIONS

Academic Honesty:

- All forms of cheating are serious offenses and will result in an “F” for the course.

Scaling of the Grades

Marks in this course may be scaled. If scaling is required, it will be carried out after each assignment, so that students will know where they stand going into the final examination. If scaling is done on the final examination, students will be informed if they ask to review their examination according to the usual policy .

Faculties, departments and schools reserve the right to scale grades in order to maintain equity among sections and conformity to university, faculty, department or school norms. Students should therefore note that an unofficial grade given by an instructor might be changed by the faculty, department or school. Grades are not official until they appear on a student's academic record .
