COURSE GOALS & DESCRIPTION

1) Primary Goals and Aims

This course is designed to help students learn and apply communication language and skills to workplace. Topics covered include: job interviews, presentations, meetings, traveling, as well as business letter writing. These topics have been carefully chosen in order to help students enrich their language use, encourage their critical thinking skills and most importantly prepare them for the workplace. Language and skills learnt are highly transferable; in other words, students can readily apply what they have learnt in class to their current academic activities: giving presentations, holding academic discussions, writing formal letters and socializing in school events.

Since the course is heavily focused on communication, students will be asked to ACTIVELY participate in conversations, discussions and presentations in class and their grades will be mainly based on their performance in these activities.

After this course students are expected to achieve the following aims:

- to respond to and participate in conversations and discussions related to course topics,
- to prepare and deliver formal presentations for general work and business purposes,
- to provide feedback, accept feedback, and use feedback so as to improve communication skills,
- to transfer learnt interview, meeting, and presentation skills to academic activities,
- to compose effective and concise business documents that are grammatically correct and that use appropriate business style, and
- to foster a positive attitude toward English learning.
