Course Aims / Description

Primary aim This one-year course is designed to enhance students' overall English competence through listening, speaking, and reading activities plus grammar review and vocabulary development. A four-skill course book plus a self-access learning project will be integrated to design learning tasks and provide opportunities for students to practice language learning strategies, get exposed to English in any form, and develop their confidence and fluency in the classroom and outside the classroom. After having taken this course, students are expected to consolidate their knowledge of English language and engage themselves more confidently and fluently in authentic communication in everyday settings and even in school settings.

Subsidiary aim In this class, students will have opportunities to

1. review and practice grammar points and sentence structures to describe and discuss a variety of topics and issues related to their life
2. build up theme-based vocabulary and even academic words for and through reading and listening to conversations, interviews, talks, and lectures
3. practice academic skills such as outlining, summarizing, and critical thinking while listening, reading, speaking, and writing
4. manage and present information, perspectives, or problem-solving in speaking and writing tasks or activities

Corresponding CEFR Can-do statements

1. [LISTENING]: I can understand the main ideas of complex speech on concrete and abstract topics delivered in a standard dialect, including technical discussions in my field of specialization.
2. [READING]: I can understand articles, reports and reviews in which the writers express specific points of view (e.g., political commentary, critiques of exhibitions, plays, films, etc.).
3. [SPOKEN INTERACTION]: I can take an active part in conversation, expressing clearly my points of view, ideas or feelings naturally with effective turn-taking.
4. [WRITTEN PRODUCTION]: I can write clear, detailed descriptions on a variety of subjects related to my field of interest
5. [QUALITY OF LANGUAGE QUALITY OF LANGUAGE]: I have a sufficient range of vocabulary to vary formulation and avoid repetition when expressing myself on matters connected to my field and on most general topics.

Requirements & Rules:

1. Class attendance: lesson preparation and active class participation are required.
 - * Attendance is taken almost every session throughout the semester. If you are all present, you will get 15% towards the total score. Each absence results in a deduction of 3 points. If absent for five times, the attendance score will be 0.
 - * If your absence or leave hours reach 10 hours, you will NOT be allowed to take the final exam.
 - * Illness-related absences: a receipt or a medicine prescription with the correct stamp of date by accredited hospitals can be seen as valid proof.
(就醫收據，藥袋，掛號單等都可)
2. Assignment:
 - * Absence from a class is no excuse for submitting assignments in time or ignoring assignments or the class you have missed. It is your responsibility to ask your classmates what has been covered in the class.
 - * In-class assignment: the system will automatically close 10 minutes after the end of the class. If a student is absent, the system will unblock for you in the next class, allowing you to submit the homework.
(One thing to note is that if you can provide medical proof, your assignment will not be penalized. If not, the score will start from 80 deducted, that means the maximum score is 80 points.)
3. No make-up exams or presentation:
 - * unless you notify the instructor valid and official reasons for your absence beforehand.
 - * If a group presentation is "ruined" due to your absence, you will receive no score.
4. Mobile phone/ tablets:

make sure to mute or turn off your mobile phone before class begins. During the class, no access to mobile devices is allowed unless permission is given for a specific learning task or activity.
5. Plagiarism / Cheating :

plagiarism on assignments and cheating on the exam is absolutely unacceptable.
6. AI-assisted reports and assignments
It is allowed in limited instances: AI can be used to prepare for reports and assignments by brainstorming, but students must show how it helped them reach the result.
